

Violence in Language, Art and Culture: Images to die for?

Violence is at epidemic proportions and seeps into all parts of our lives and our culture—in music, art and especially our language.

Do these images cause more violence against women and girls? Or is it just a reflection of our violent culture? How do we combat the escalation of gender-based violence? What are some promising new strategies?

This morning symposium is free and open to the public.

22nd Annual Luncheon & Symposium*

Tuesday, Sept. 11, 2007

Hyatt Regency Chicago

151 E. Wacker Drive

Moderator

Lisa Yun Lee, the Jane Addams Hull House Museum at the University of Illinois at Chicago

Panelists

Mark Anthony Neal, Duke University

E. J. Graff, Schuster Institute for Investigative Journalism at Brandeis University

Yunuen Rodriguez, Women & Girls CAN board and Females United for Action (FUFA)

Schedule*

8:30-9 a.m.: Continental breakfast

9-11 a.m.: Symposium

11-11:45 a.m.: Networking reception

12-1:30 p.m.: Luncheon

All events except the Luncheon are free.*

Symposium Sponsor

Chicago Foundation for women

Register now at www.cfw.org

Please RSVP for the symposium at no cost, either online or by phone (312) 577-2801 or TTY (312) 577-2803. Tickets to the Luncheon begin at $150.

United is the official airline of Chicago Foundation for Women.